

CONTENTS

About the editor xii

Foreword xiii

Introduction 1

kiwanja.net – Ken Banks

A journey into meaning and empathy 2

Hacking the code 3

Beating the education system 3

Needing new direction 4

Africa calling 4

One step forward, two steps back 5

From motorbikes to mobile 5

Disruptive grassroots messaging 6

FrontlineSMS is unleashed on the world 7

And then came the Nigerian elections 8

Knock knock 10

The ups and downs of growth 11

Users, users everywhere 12

Growing pains and a time to step back 13

A few words on empathy 13

Problems with the teaching of social entrepreneurship 14

The power of passion 16

About this book 17

Some advice for innovators-to-be 18

Discussion questions 21

Further reading 21

01 Wonders of the Solar System 23

We Care Solar – Laura Stachel

Abstract 23

Why me? 24

My background 24

Maternal mortality in the developing world 26

Driven to action 27

The birth of a solar innovator 29

Structure, sustainability and scale 34

Meeting demand and measuring impact 37

A seal of approval from healthcare workers 37

The power of stories	39
Lessons learnt	41
Discussion questions	43
Further reading	43
Acknowledgements	44

02 Closing Latin America's 'digital divide' 45

CDI – Rodrigo Baggio

Abstract	45
A faltering start	46
Two passions	46
My confirmation came in a dream	47
A dream comes true	49
March 1995: the first informatics school and citizenship (EIC)	50
The committee	51
Social franchising	52
1996: discovering Ashoka	53
1997: informatics as a dream of freedom	53
1999: including indigenous communities	54
April 1999: international expansion	56
2008: CDI international	56
2008: the reinvention of CDI and the first social business	56
2009: Middle East expansion	58
2010: the creation of CDI apps for good	58
2012: B Corps	58
2013: NegóciosSociais.com	59
2014: entrepreneurship synapses	59
2015: rescuing the essence	60
The challenge of marketing, measuring impact, and sustainability	60
Assessing, measuring and understanding our impact	61
Reprogramming the world	62
My future as a social entrepreneur	63
Lessons learnt	63
Discussion questions	64
Further reading	65

03 Patent wars: fighting big pharma to enable access to drugs for all 66

I-MAK – Priti Radhakrishnan

Abstract	66
Activism in the family	67
Life-saving drugs, denied	67
An organization born. An activist re-born	68
Our first patent case	69

The early days	71
Political and personal struggles	71
Finding my way back	73
Reflections on impact and our journey so far	74
Defining our structure, strategy and approach	75
Victory	76
Integration	78
Lessons learnt	78
Discussion questions	79
Further reading	79

04 Data science, technology and design for social justice 80

Visualizing Impact – Jessica Anderson and Joumana al Jabri

Abstract	80
Monday afternoons in Beirut	81
Joumana al Jabri	82
From political to economic instability	82
Ramzi Jaber	83
TEDxRamallah	83
From stories to action	84
Visualizing Palestine	85
The access to knowledge movement	85
Analyzing openness	86
Communicating Palestine	86
The digital double-edged sword	89
Forming, storming, norming, performing: the VP team comes together	89
From Visualizing Palestine to Visualizing Impact	93
Future goals and directions	95
Financial structure and sustainability	97
Competition	98
From reach, to engagement, to impact	99
Engaging the VP team	102
Room for improvement	102
Lessons learnt	102
Discussion questions	104
Further reading	105
References	106

05 Bringing the Silicon Valley revolution in technology and business to global health 107

Magpi – Joel Selanikio

Abstract	107
Techie turned doctor, turned tech-doctor	108
What we don't know can kill us	109

The paper problem	111
An environmental disaster	112
A glimmer of hope: the Palm PDA (late 1990s)	113
The floodgates didn't open (2000)	114
EpiSurveyor phase 1: it's the technology (early 2000s)	115
Easy to use, hard to install (2004)	115
Miracle #1: hotmail	116
Miracle #2: the mobile phone	117
EpiSurveyor phase 2: rapid growth (2009–12)	118
Not just for epidemiological surveys (2013)	119
Kenya Ministry of Public Health and Sanitation (MOH)	120
The mechanics: it's the business model, stupid (2009–10)	121
Magpi here and now	124
What our work means for the world	124
Lessons learnt	127
Discussion questions	128
Further reading	129

06 Food waste meets food poverty: closing the loop 130

FoodCycle – Kelvin Cheung and Michael Norton

Abstract	130
The FoodCycle journey	131
Food waste and food poverty: joining the dots	132
Food waste, food poverty and social isolation	132
Our first cooking session	133
The evolution of the FoodCycle project	135
The café project	136
FoodCycle's social franchise model	136
FoodCycle specifics	137
2015–20 – the next 50 hubs	139
FoodCycle in numbers and impact	140
Lessons learnt	140
Discussion questions	141
Further reading	142

07 Innovation in Africa's Silicon Savannah 143

Ushahidi – Erik Hersman

Abstract	143
The view from above	144
What allows me to handle both worlds?	144
An unconventional childhood	145
Everything changed	146
The building of a mapping platform	146
Stepping back	147

Ushahidi for the rest of the world?	149
How I think about Africa	151
Ushahidi: business model and sustainability	151
Ushahidi impact	152
Lessons learnt	155
Framing innovation	157
Discussion questions	158
Further reading	158
Acknowledgements	159

08 Touch-based treatment for autism 160

QSTI (Qigong Sensory Training Institute) – Louisa Silva

Abstract	160
Why me?	161
Autism: a growing phenomenon	161
Hearing the call: the beginnings of a journey	162
Casting the net wider	166
The skin, the self and a theory for autism	166
Damage to the sense of touch	168
Pushing onward	169
Dissemination	172
A last-minute breakthrough	172
Keeping ourselves in business	174
Did we make a difference? Looking at impact	175
Calmer waters	175
Advice for others	176
Lessons learnt	176
Discussion questions	177
Further reading	178

09 Reconnecting the disconnected: a story of technology, refugees and finding lost family 179

Refugees United – David and Christopher Mikkelsen

Abstract	179
If you don't know the rules you can't break them: why us?	180
Lessons: the life of a refugee	182
We know less than we think	182
Building Refugees United	185
The alchemy of a tech non-profit	187
Who needs us, anyway?	189
Building networks	190
The Holy Grail of sustainability	191
Taking it to the field	192
Designing for everyone	192

Impacting the world around us	193
Reflections on a journey not yet complete	193
Lessons learnt	195
Further discussion	196
Further reading	196

10 Let a billion readers bloom 197

Same Language Subtitling (SLS) – Brij Kothari

Abstract	197
Conception	198
Life before SLS	199
SLS: the first five years (1997–2001)	200
SLS: the second five years (2002–06)	204
SLS: the third five years (2007–11)	207
SLS: the fourth five years (2012–16)	211
Impact and potential	214
Lessons learnt	217
Discussion questions	219
Further reading	219
Acronyms used	219
Acknowledgements	220
Notes	220

11 Keep calm and Dream in Tunisia 221

Dream in Tunisia – Sarah Toumi

Abstract	221
Sarah's personal journey	222
Conservation: a never-ending tension with economic development	223
Timeline	225
Making it work: the structure, model and sustainability of Dream in Tunisia	230
Measuring our all-important impact	232
Lessons learnt	233
Discussion questions	233
Further reading	234

12 The reluctant geneticist 235

Genetic Alliance – Sharon Terry

Abstract	235
An unexpected journey	235
Making sense of the unknown	237
Accepting the calling	238
The challenges of sustainability, impact and growth	240

Building an organization from the ground up	241
Understanding our actions and their impact	242
Stepping up to the plate	244
Lessons learnt	245
Discussion questions	247
Further reading	247

13 Power to the people: reengineering democracy 248

GovRight – Tarik Nesh Nash

Abstract	248
My personal journey	249
Identifying the problem	251
How I tackled the problem	253
Moving into the international sphere	259
The mechanics	262
Impact	264
Lessons learnt	265
Discussion questions	267
Further reading	267

Index 268