

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements xi

PART ONE The digital-native organization 1

Introduction 1

Notes 2

01 The key forces for change 3

Relentless, accelerating change 4

Transformed competitive contexts 6

Transformed consumer contexts 13

Transformed company contexts 15

The agile context model 20

The key challenge: rates of change 21

Notes 23

02 How digital disrupts 26

The lifecycle of a technology 28

Why businesses get disrupted: the ambiguity zone 29

Defining digital 31

Notes 32

03 What's stopping you? 34

Slow by design 34

Why organizations become 'sticky' 35

Why good ideas become battles 37

The arrogance of scale 38

Protecting against obsolete beliefs and 'toxic assumptions' 39

The tyranny of rigid planning 41

The legacy technology problem 43

Marginal thinking 44

Culture and behaviour 45

Notes 48

- 04 Defining digital transformation 50
What digital transformation is NOT 51
What good looks like: a maturity model model for change 52
The agile formula 54
Notes 56

PART TWO Velocity 57

- Defining velocity 57
Notes 61

- 05 Operating in the ‘ambiguity zone’ 63
Building velocity through continuous innovation 64
More experimentation = more opportunity 68
Marginal and breakthrough innovation 70
The case for a more iterative, emergent approach 70
The problem with waterfall 71
The three types of problem in the world 72
Complex scenarios require emergent solutions 74
Notes 76

- 06 Digital-native processes 78
Design thinking 78
Agile 79
Lean 82
The principles of agile business 83
Developing a learning culture 85
The dangers of systematic survival bias 87
Learning to unlearn 88
Fixed and growth mindsets 89
Embedding reflection time 90
Notes 93

- 07 The agile innovation process 95
Empowering invention 95
Ingrained commercialization 105

| | |
|---------------------------------|-----|
| Scaling, the digital-native way | 109 |
| Key takeouts | 114 |
| Notes | 115 |

PART THREE FOCUS 119

| | |
|---|-----|
| Defining focus | 119 |
| The wrong side of urgency – Nokia’s story | 121 |
| Notes | 122 |

| | | |
|-----------|--|-----|
| 08 | The role of vision and purpose | 125 |
| | The organizing idea, purpose and vision | 125 |
| | The link between purpose and profit | 127 |
| | Taking the long view | 128 |
| | Notes | 131 |
| 09 | Agile strategy and planning | 132 |
| | The key to good strategy | 132 |
| | Emergent and deliberate strategy | 134 |
| | The balance between vision and iteration | 135 |
| | The customer-centric organization | 137 |
| | ‘P’ is for Prioritization | 141 |
| | Strategy as an ever-changing algorithm | 145 |
| | Discovery-driven planning | 147 |
| | Notes | 148 |
| 10 | Linking strategy to execution | 151 |
| | The five questions | 151 |
| | Strategy and tactic trees | 152 |
| | OKRs: bringing the team with you | 153 |
| | Sprint working as a driver of change | 156 |
| | Data-driven decision-making | 158 |
| | Technology as a barrier to change | 159 |
| | Technology as an enabler of change | 160 |
| | Agile budgeting | 162 |
| | Key takeouts | 163 |
| | Notes | 164 |

PART FOUR Flexibility 167

Defining flexibility 167

Notes 169

11 Agile structures and resourcing 171

Concurrent running, co-located working 173

The insourcing and outsourcing dynamic 176

Centralization vs decentralization, specialists and generalists 178

The power of small teams to drive big change 179

Two pizza teams 182

Self-organizing, multi-disciplinary teams 183

The composition of multi-disciplinary teams 185

Notes 186

12 Scaling agility 188

Managing core teams and dependencies 191

Getting the right mix: pioneers, settlers, town planners 193

Agile decision-making: flatter structures, quicker decisions 197

Agile governance and the digital board 198

Notes 200

13 Building the culture to move fast 202

Agile is not just a process, it defines a culture 202

What is digital-native culture? 204

The right culture helps you to move fast 207

What really differentiates high-performing teams? 208

Creating the culture for real collaboration 211

The importance of trust and ‘productive informality’ 212

Read my user manual 214

Notes 214

14 A blueprint for flexibility: autonomy, mastery and purpose 217

Our massive employee engagement problem 217

Mapping strategy and culture to motivation 218

Autonomy 219

Mastery 221
Purpose 224
Notes 225

15 Digital-native talent 227

Hiring smart 227
Peacocks, penguins, and pie bakers 229
Redefining effective leadership for the digital age 230
Key takeouts 231
Notes 232

PART FIVE The transformation journey 235

The five dimensions of change 235
Dimension one: personal 236
Dimension two: principles 242
Dimension three: process 244
Dimension four: practice 248
Dimension five: pace 254
Staying agile 258
What now? 263
Notes 263

Index 267